The initial visit will be to assess your company. The results from the assessment will then form a part of the action plan that the DGSA and any company representative must agree on to progress with becoming fully compliant.

The DGSA throughout this assessment will be on-hand to offer guidance and advice. The second visit will then be undertaken towards the end of the 12-month contract. During this visit an audit is conducted to assess your compliance performance. A report is then produced which is a legal requirement in ADR for any undertaking in working alongside dangerous goods.
